LITERARY NOTES.

"The Political Councily of Europe," by D. Johnson, issued by Sampson, Low & Co., London, and E. Pion & Co., Paris, has been suppressed in Germany by the police authorities, under the act passed Oct. 21, 1878, "against the dangerous practices of Social-inter."

incorrect."

The attempt to translate the best novels of all foreign countries into Esglish has been put into the hands of M. Henri Van Liano, the translator of Taine's "English Literature" and of Mollier's dramatic works, by a London publishing house, M. Van Laun will be assisted by some of the most experienced of the translators of the present day, and each novel will be published, not only with the sanction of the author, but, if possible, simultaneously with the orizinal work.

SPOILING WOMEN'S NAMES. Public School Giti's Signatures.

Many, if not a majority, of the earnes of the eight or nine hundred giple from the public achools who have been examined for admission to the Normal College give us the impression that they belong to mere house more proposed in serious work. These girls apparently price the nicknames by which they are known in the family circle and continuate freshes, to those with which they were therein the desired of the serious work. In so doing the public achool girls are not exceptional among our young women, for it is quite the fashion nowadays for them to grow so ensured of their suresty appella-is quite the fashion nowadays for them to grow so enamored of their hursery appellations that they cling to them as their fased and proper names. They may even be offended when they are addressed by their correct names, which they limagine are less proby than these pot diministies; and some grave grown-up women will put Hattie or fineste, Mamie or Balle, on their cards as if other were in pinafores still.

The fashion is American, but our patriotian cannot make us grow fond of it. The nicknames which appear is so large a share of these public school girls signatures would do very well for the pets at a dog show. When they are used to express the sflectionate regard of near friends and relatives they also may be pretty and appropriate, but they look very silly in a formal signature, and surely do not best the dignity of womanhood.

We find, for instance, among these circle

Anna into Annie and Harriet into Hattig. Such aband names as these appear quite frequently: Chattie, Lidie, Millie, Tülle, Kittie, Rosie, Nettie, Bitqbie, Aggie and Margie.

The great aim seems to be to manufacture a name which cade in is, and in accomplishing it the linest appellations for women we have, names renowned in poetry and in history, and of a sweet and melodious sound, are chopped up into childhah diminutiwes. They convey an idea of petitires, and doing rightly belong to girls of diguity and character—girls like those who are going leithe normal college, so many of whom with have
